SUBJECT: Fifth Consecutive Increase in Jordan's Fuel Prices since Liberalization

REFS: A) Amman 1754
B) Amman 785
B) Amman 628

¶1. The Government of Jordan (GOJ) announced new prices of petroleum products, effective July 10. Prices rose by four to nine percent over last month depending on the product, representing the fifth increase since the GOJ liberalized fuel prices in February 2008 (reftels). An interagency committee determines prices based on average international market prices during the preceding 30 days and other costs, such as freight and handling. The GOJ has decided to maintain for an indefinite period the subsidized price of Liquefied Petroleum Gas (LPG) for home cooking and heating (ref A).

¶2. Current retail prices of petroleum products in Jordan follow (NOTE: 1 USD = 0.708 JD):
